Aloha Friends,

We thank all of you for your continued support during the past year.

2013-2014 marks the 115th year than Susie has been in existence. We are proud of our tradition of working with the most forgotten and neglected, those that fall between the cracks of traditional human services, alienated and often unable to access mainstream services.

Major highlights from this past year:

- We renewed our long-term lease and Covenant with the United Methodist Women. The United Methodist Women have been great supporters of Susie since assigning workers from the Women's Home Missionary in 1899. Their support has been critical to the success of Susie over the years.
- The Harry and Jeannette Weinberg Foundation awarded a $50,000/year grant for the next three-years to support our Competency-Based Community School Diploma Program (CBase). This will provide the program with necessary core funding and the leverage to secure additional funds for this much need program.
- The Hawaii Community Foundation awarded the agency with an organizational capacity building grant earlier to develop a resource development plan. Further funding was provided to purchase donor software, rebrand the organization, update our website, and provide partial support for a Development and Communications Officer. The position is critical to maintain ongoing communications with stakeholders and to cultivate additional supporters for the agency in the long term.

We look forward to an exciting new year. The Board of Directors and staff will convene to develop a strategic plan. This process occurs every five years and allows the agency to reflect on our past, assess our current programs and lay the foundation for our future priorities and strategically allocate our resources.

We anticipate the launch of our new initiative, the Kalihi Palama Juvenile Assessment Center, in early 2015. The Assessment Center is part of the Ho'opono Mamo, a civil citation initiative and diversion program, based on the spirit of aloha. The initiative will address the disproportionate minority representation in our juvenile justice system. The project will divert status offenders (e.g. runaways, truants, and minor law violators) from further progressing through the system.

The agency will also undergo re-accreditation by the Council on Accreditation (COA) in early 2015. Accreditation involves a detailed review and analysis of an organization's administrative functions and service delivery practices. Accreditation ensures that the agency and its programs operate from an industry wide best-practice and/or evidence-based framework for both governance and program services.

Thank you again for your continued support of our programs and services. We hope that you will visit our new website, sign up for our e-newsletters and help us to share Susannah Wesley Community Center's impact with others.

Aloha,

Ronald M. Higashi
